

"Life is an experiment. The more experiments you make the better." (R. W. Emerson). Our aim is to help you following this advice.

The word experiment makes us thinking about high technology laboratories, tags of universities or companies and well educated scientists, who are doing very dangerous experiments that nobody understands. But lets forget this exaggerated stereotype and focus on the basic meaning of the word experiment. Experiment only means to gain experiences or information by systematically trying and this is exactly what we want you to do.

Instead of reading a scientific article, which contains every fact and every explanation, which uncover every secret dealing with its topic, our aim is to give you the opportunity to find out by yourself. For sure all the explanations and facts are also available, but they are supposed to be red after you have trying on your own. For every experiment you only need materials of a regular household. So lets start! Choose a subject and start your first experiment!